«– Examinons bien, dit-il en reprenant la feuille sur laquelle j'avais écrit. Voilà une série de cent trente-deux lettres qui se présentent sous un désordre apparent. Il y a des mots où les consonnes se rencontrent seules comme le premier "nrnlls", d'autres où les voyelles, au contraire, abondent, le cinquième, par exemple, "uneeief", ou l'avant-dernier "oseibo". Or, cette disposition n'a évidemment pas été combinée: elle est donnée mathématiquement par la raison inconnue qui a présidé à la succession de ces lettres. Il me parait certain que la phrase primitive a été écrite régulièrement, puis retournée suivant une loi qu'il faut découvrir. Celui qui posséderait la clef de ce "chiffre" le lirait couramment.»
